Learning and Teaching Fair 2018

Dear colleagues,

We cordially invite you to the first Learning and Teaching Fair, which grew out of the annual Innovedum event and is being organised by the Educational Development and Technology Unit (LET). The Fair showcases ETH professors and lecturers and their teaching. It provides a platform for them to present interesting current ETH teaching projects and approaches and an opportunity for informal discussion among Innovedum project leaders, members of the Teaching Commission, Educational Developers from the departments, students, the Rector and – above all – ETH teaching staff, who are interested in teaching.

The Learning and Teaching Fair will take place on Wednesday 14th November 2018, 16.00 in the ETH Main Building. To register, please go to www.innovedum.ethz.ch.

We look forward to seeing you there!

Yours sincerely,

Prof. Dr. Sarah M. Springman
